Current Production

The Company delivered May 2018 average production of 1,728 barrels per day ("bbls/d") and the current field estimated production is approximately 1,821 bbls/d (seven-day average ending June 6, 2018). Additional volumes have been realized from three of the five wells drilled in 2018 with the final two wells expected to come on stream in the next 30 days.

Paul Baay, President and Chief Executive Officer of Touchstone, commented:

"The drilling campaign continues to provide significant organic growth for the Company. With current field estimated production of 1,821 bbls/d Touchstone has grown production by 42% compared to the first quarter of 2017. With two wells coming on production in the next month and five more wells planned for 2018 the Company is well positioned to exceed our 2,000 bbls/day goal for this year."
